

AEQUITA

AEQUITA is a Munich-based family office investing in special situations including corporate carve-outs, successions, and recovery situations across Europe. With a strong capital base, entrepreneurial expertise and a partnership approach, the team focuses on the acquisition and long-term value enhancement of companies that can benefit from an operational engagement. AEQUITA brings a fresh and sound view to all areas of the business, such as sales development, production optimization and efficiency measures, which can help management to drive sustainable growth. AEQUITA contributes not only the capital but also the vision, inspiration and operational impetus needed to reach the next stage in the development of its companies and their success stories.

In order to support our investment team, we are looking for an

Intern (m/f) Mergers & Acquisitions

Your Profile:

- Completing an economic, scientific or engineering degree at a top-tier university
- Strong analytical skills and above-average academic achievements
- Prior experience in Private Equity, Consulting, Investment Banking or Transaction Services
- Proficient knowledge of accounting principles and valuation methods
- Highly ambitious and entrepreneurial mindset
- Good team player and hands-on mentality
- Excellent German and English skills

Your Perspective:

At AEQUITA, you have the chance to fully tackle different areas by becoming a full member of our dynamic team. As part of your internship, you will examine new investment opportunities and analyze their attractiveness along the entire due diligence process chain. Among other things, we will teach you how to thoroughly examine the financial basis of a company and translate it into a model. All these activities are carried out in close cooperation with the entire investment team and are accompanied by regular feedback sessions to get the most out of the internship for you.

After completing the internship (ideally 3-6 months), exceptionally well-performing interns can receive a full-time offer for a later career start at AEQUITA.
